

Bread and Jam for Frances

Author: Russell Hoban

Source: Eureka Public Library Children's Book department

I remember this book when I was a child and fell in love with Frances, a temperamental badger whose experiences growing up are documented in a series of 'Frances' books. Bread and Jam for Frances is a book for all those who have fussy eaters in their homes. Frances loves bread and jam in fact so much so that while everyone else in her family is eating the family meal, Frances always is eating bread and jam.

So in an effort to get her to eat something....anything....else but bread and jam, her mother lets her eat it for every meal. As a result, Frances doesn't find bread and jam so enticing anymore, and guess what happens? You'll have to read the book to find out. 😊 Bread and Jam for Frances is one of a half dozen 'Frances' books by Russell Hoban that EPLD carries in the Children's Department. Check them out!
