

Dear Librarian* by Lydia M. Sigwarth

A patron turned me onto this book as it reminded her of her experience at our library, so I had to read it. This book is about a little girl named Lydia whose parents had to uproot their family from their beloved home in Colorado and move them back to the Midwest. For a while, her life felt adrift as they stayed at various extended family members' homes. That is until she found her local library.

The library was full of all kinds of wonderful surprises. There were books, games, toys....just so many things to do and explore. And the best part...there was a special person there with a gentle demeanor and 'a laugh like bubbles,' who helped Lydia find books and other fun things at the library. Lydia had found a home. This book can be found in the Eureka Public Library Children's department, and I encourage you to read it as it has a special ending. But, you'll have to read the book to find out. 😊
