

Half Homemade, Fully Delicious, David Venable

Yum! It's soon to be a season of time together with friends, family and food! This great new book at EPLD provides you with some awesome new recipes that taste 100% homemade, but start with something you can purchase to cut the production time in half. Appetizers to soups, breads, drinks, main dishes and desserts... there's a bit of it all in this book. The pictures will make you really hungry, and the pre-packaged and/or quick and easy directions will make you smile. This is a book you will want to check out-and probably will end up taking pictures of the recipes with your phone!
